the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age has increased from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion, and the number of people aged 65 and over has increased from 0.2 billion to 0.5 billion (United Nations 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of the young and the old. The United Nations (1999) has identified the need to address the needs of the young and the old as one of the major challenges of the 21st century. INTRODUCTORY NOTES

The Lincoln National Life Foundation sponsored by The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company, in 1929 acquired the Lincolniana assembled by Daniel Fish, first bibliographer to publish an exhaustive compilation of Lincoln books and pamphlets. Judge Fish was arranging for the publication of a supplemental volume when death overtook him. His manuscript was made available to J. B. Oakleaf, who greatly added to the work Judge Fish had begun, and brought out the Oakleaf Bibliography in 1926. In 1930 Judge Oakleaf passed away, which took out of the field both of these bibliographers.

Lincoln Lore, a weekly bulletin of the Foundation, seemed to offer a convenient medium for continuing the Fish and Oakleaf effort, and new Lincoln items were listed quarterly. A chronological system of numbering new titles was adopted, which made possible the inauguration of a cumulative bibliography, that would not be disturbed in the process of enumeration as time went on and which would allow new findings to be systematically added when discovered.

The bibliographical numbers of Lincoln Lore have been printed quarterly for many years and have been distributed gratuitously to the 5,000 subscribers. There has been an urgent need for an author index to supplement this vast compilation of bibliographical data and it has been planned from the beginning to issue these indexes by decades, further carrying out the chronological arrangement. The first of these decade check lists covering the "thirties," from 1930 to 1939 inclusive, is now available.

In order that the check list might be as exhaustive as possible, at the close of the decade the assistance of several outstanding Lincoln students was solicited. The titles of eligible books and pamphlets not appearing in Lincoln Lore were submitted by these individuals who contributed much to the completeness of the work: the late Valentine Bjorkman, collection now at Upsala College; James W. Bollinger; Esther Cushman, Brown University; Henry E. Luhrs; Harry J. Lytle; R. Gerald McMurtry, Lincoln Memorial University; Rea McPeak, Lincoln Library, Santa Barbara; Harry E. Pratt, for Horner Collection; F. Ray Risdon; H. K. Sage; William H. Townsend; and Genevieve Young, Lincoln Shrine, Redlands.

Lincoln Lore for March 20, 1933 (No. 206), specifies the qualifications, both as to subject matter and mechanical make-up, which the Foundation has considered essential for including an item in the bibliography. Previous to this time no number had been given each title, but the same system of enumeration now used, has been applied in designating numbers for the publications of the earlier years.

It will be observed that the index carries besides the author's name, an abbreviated title, and the number of pages with the usual chronological number giving the date of publication. Abraham Lincoln, as an author, has been eliminated from the index and the name of the compiler or editor of his words has been substituted. Where there are no numbered pages, or where reprints from magazines bear the original page number, brackets are placed about the actual number of printed pages. This brief information should allow the collector to identify nearly any Lincoln item published in the 1930 decade. The small type, the single line reference, and the pocket size booklet are all combined to make possible a Lincolniana check list which may be conveniently used for bookstore browsing and kept close at hand for ready reference.

* Many items not known at the time the quarterly bibliographical numbers were published, have since been discovered and most of them acquired by the Foundation. They have been included in the check list and follow the general system of enumeration. The check list, with a few exceptions, becomes a catalogue of the books and pamphlets in the Foundation library, bearing the dates from 1930 to 1939.

The first librarian of the Foundation, R. Gerald McMurtry, and his successor, Maurice A. Cook, have been of great assistance to the director of the Foundation in the compilation of data for this check list.
